Emcee Jay Bouley considers himself to be a musicologist of primarily pop music, honed during his 18-year radio career. As an avid appreciator of nearly all musical styles, Jay is excited to be a small part of today's program. When he's not listening to music, he's listening to customers and solving their automotive needs at Markquart Toyota.

Performing the "Cups" routine for us today are three students from Chi-Hi: Andy Stoll, Simon Arneberg, and Andrea Faccioli, an exchange student from Italy living with the Arnebergs. They all enjoy juggling, Boy Scouts, piano, and singing.

In fact, Andy and Simon are playing two of the seven brothers in the "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" musical next weekend at Chi-Hi, Feb. 19-21.

About Barbershop Harmony

Barbershop harmony is defined as four voices singing a cappella (without instruments), with the tenor part above the lead (melody). The bass is always the lowest part, while the baritone part wanders above and below the lead part, to fill in the chord. It was very popular in the late 1800s, as men gathered in neighborhood barbershops and harmonized by ear. The Barbershop Harmony Society, formerly known as SPEBSQSA (Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Singing in America), was formed in 1938 to preserve this unique American musical art form. Learn more at "www.barbershop.org".
